Overview

What to do if you are worried about a child? What does Safeguarding Children

Safeguarding children means protecting a child's (aged 17 and below) right to live in a safe environment free from abuse and neglect. Abuse takes many forms and can include everything from physical, sexual harm, exploitation, and neglect. Safeguarding is about people and organisations working together to prevent or stop abuse and neglect. Any agency providing care, education, or health services to children or young people can complete this form, please complete it with as much information as is available.

All professionals who make a Children First Partnership Hub enquiry/referral about children should be aware that the referral not automatically result in a Child Protection investigation and/or Social Work Assessment and some situations potentially harmful to a child may be dealt with, initially, by offering support to the child and family.
